- 1. Two prohibited areas, barred to all but special-per it holders, are north and south of Sestroretsk (60-05%, 30-00E). The southern prohibited area is near Lisi Nos (60-00-46%, 29-56E) and the northern area is on the coast between Sestrorestsk and depino. Each prohibited area is fenced and guarded. The M/s thought that there were coast artillery gun positions there.*
- Two outlying islands with concrete shelters were observed off the prohibited area of Idsi Nos.
- Stalin Island, south of Lisi Nos, and Krasnaya Avesda Island were fortified between 1047 and 1940. Coast artillery guns and AA guns were installed. Seaward target cractice with guns of about 75 and 100 cm caliber has been held since early 1940. Concrete shelters for billets for gun crews were built.
- A landing pier for war vessels was on the northern edge of Lisi Nos. Torpedo boats, gumboats, and mine sweepers were berthed there, sometimes for several days. A number of maunition stellers are south of the landing pier in a small woods. The whole wooded area is surrounded by vire entanglements and is guarded by naval sentries. It was observed that small trucks hauled torpedoes from this wooded area to the vessels lying at the landing pier. ***

 Repino is not known. It is possible that the place is Kuokkala.

 Probably the islands off the two villages of Verperov and Dubki, of which the larger one is designated on the sea-chart as Verner Luda.

 List Nos is known as an operating base for PT boats. It is improbable, however, that in addition to List has Farbor a landing pier should have been built on the north side of the cape, since the water depths there are 0.3 to 0.6 meters. The place has probably been confused with List Nos Harbor.
